Accordant Company Welcomes Contractor's Information Systems

Whippany, New Jersey - April 26, 2010 - Leading Sage Software business partner, Accordant Company, LLC is pleased to announce that effective April 19, Accordant and Contractor's Information Systems, a Sage Software Master Builder business partner based in Ellicott City, MD have joined forces to create a team of sales and consulting professionals to provide a complete range of technology solutions to the construction and real estate market. The resulting organization will be one of the nation's largest full service technology consulting firms with 3,050 clients and over 28 dedicated client service professionals.

"We look forward to leveraging Accordant's resources to expand the product and service offering in this market," said Paul Krieger. "Accordant has a deep commitment to outstanding service and brings to each client engagement a breadth of industry expertise, and resources unparalleled in our business."

"Contractor's Information Systems has a successful track record of specializing in the construction segment," said Bob Sandelands, Managing Partner of Accordant Company. "Paul and his team have been serving the construction industry for over 25 years and bring a wealth of knowledge and experience to Accordant's construction and real estate software practice. We welcome clients of Contractor's Information Systems to Accordant and look forward to providing the resources and attention required to meet all of your business objectives."
