Sage Timberline Office Desktop

Are you utilizing Timberline's newest features?

Everyone who has received Timberline 9x has access to the new desktop interface.

The Sage Timberline Office Desktop simplifies workflow and saves you time. Desktop provides you with a digital dashboard to display all of the information and functionality needed to efficiently handle your unique responsibilities in a single location. From one screen, you're able to efficiently review mission-critical information and initiate tasks that are important to your role in the organization.

Fully customizable, you're able to organize common tasks, highlight important inquiries and reports, as well as connect to information beyond Sage Timberline Office, such as documents created in other software and Web site links. Additionally, unique "start pages" can be designed, so that your first look at Desktop each day updates you on the status of items essential to help you excel.
