Leading Sage Timberline and Sage Master Builder Solution Providers to Join Forces

Whippany, NJ – October 2, 2006: Accordant Company, LLC, a leading Sage Timberline Office solution provider based in Whippany, NJ and Contractor Software and Consulting, LLC, a leading Sage Master Builder solution provider based in Freehold, NJ, have joined forces to create a team of sales and consulting professionals to provide a complete range of technology solutions to the construction and real estate market in the states of Connecticut, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. The resulting organization will be one of the largest full service technology consulting firms in the area, with 1,600+ clients and over twenty dedicated customer service professionals.

“Contractor Software and Consulting is an outstanding company,” said Bob Sandelands, Managing Partner of Accordant Company. “It is the largest Sage Master Builder reseller in the northeast, and is one of the leading Sage Master Builder firms in the country. Henry Lubas and his team have built a great company with a tradition of excellence that will fit right in with how we do business. We are confident that our combined companies will become the preeminent choice for contractors and real estate firms of all types in the region. We are very excited and fortunate to be welcoming Henry and his team to the Accordant family.”

“This is one of those rare instances where the combined entity is greater than the sum of its parts,” stated Henry Lubas, Managing Partner of Contractor Software and Consulting. “With the acquisition of Master Builder by Sage, I immediately knew that the winners in our industry would be those firms that could effectively represent the full suite of Sage construction and real estate products. By joining forces with Accordant, we are able to become that firm overnight. Our existing client base will also benefit by continuing to expect the dedication and commitment to their success that they have become accustomed to, as well as to increased opportunities to maximize their investment in Sage Master Builder given the additional resources of Accordant.”

Effective immediately, the entity will operate under the Accordant name, and will be a Sage Select Business Partner for Timberline Office and Master Builder.
